Color Smile Inventory Management System User Guide

1. Overview

The Color Smile Inventory Management System is a centralized application developed to help the organization monitor, control, and manage inventory efficiently.

The system provides a structured way to record inventory items, track stock movements, and maintain accurate inventory records. It supports daily operations by ensuring that stock information is up to date, reliable, and easily accessible.

By using this system, users can reduce manual errors, prevent stock shortages or overstocking, and improve overall inventory visibility.

2. System Purpose and Capabilities

The Color Smile Inventory Management System allows users to:

- Maintain a complete list of products and supplies
- Organize items by category and brand for easier identification
- Monitor current stock quantities at any time
- Record inventory additions such as deliveries or restocking
- Record inventory deductions such as usage or item release
- Review historical inventory records for reference and reporting

The system is designed to be user-friendly and easy to navigate, allowing authorized users to perform their tasks efficiently without requiring technical knowledge.

3. User Roles and Responsibilities

Access to system features is controlled through assigned user roles. Each role has defined responsibilities to ensure data accuracy and proper system usage.

3.1 Administrator

The Administrator is responsible for the overall management and maintenance of the system.

Responsibilities include:

- Managing user accounts and access permissions

- Maintaining product information, categories, and brands
- Ensuring inventory records are accurate and complete
- Monitoring overall system usage and data integrity
- The Administrator oversees system operations and ensures that inventory data remains consistent and reliable.

3.2 Stock Manager

The Stock Manager is responsible for daily inventory operations.

Responsibilities include:

- Recording inventory received into the system
- Recording inventory released or used
- Updating stock quantities when necessary
- Verifying item details before saving transactions
- Exporting inventory records for reporting or review
- This role focuses on maintaining accurate day-to-day inventory records.

4. General Usage Guidelines

To ensure accurate and reliable inventory data, users are advised to:

- Verify item quantities before saving any updates
- Ensure system records match physical inventory
- Perform inventory updates promptly after stock movements
- Report discrepancies or system issues to the Administrator

5. Document Purpose

This User Guide is intended to help users understand the basic purpose, roles, and usage of the Color Smile Inventory Management System. It does not require technical or IT knowledge and serves as a reference for daily system use.

Color Smile Inventory Management System User Manual

1. Introduction

This User Manual is designed to guide users in the proper and effective use of the Color Smile Inventory Management System. It provides clear instructions on how to perform daily tasks within the system and explains the purpose of each feature in a simple and understandable manner.

The manual includes step-by-step procedures accompanied by screenshots to help users easily follow the instructions, even without prior experience using similar systems. Each section explains what actions to take, where to click, and what to expect when using the system.

This document serves as a reference for both new and existing users and is intended to support consistent, accurate, and efficient inventory operations.

2. Purpose of This Manual

The purpose of this manual is to:

- Help users understand the system's functions and features
- Provide clear guidance for completing inventory-related tasks
Reduce errors by standardizing system usage
- Serve as a reference during daily operations and training

3. System Features

a. Dashboard

The Dashboard provides an overview of key information within the system. It displays summarized data that allows users to quickly assess the current status of the inventory.

The Dashboard shows:

- Summary counts of products, categories, brands, suppliers, and branches
- Total stock quantities
- Items that are low in stock

The Dashboard helps users monitor inventory conditions at a glance and identify areas that may require action.

b. Account

The Account feature allows users to view and manage their personal account information.

Change Password

Using this feature, users can:

- View their account details
- Update personal information when allowed
- Manage account-related settings

This ensures that user information remains accurate and up to date.

c. Manage Users (Administrator Only)

The Manage Users feature is accessible only to Administrators and is used to control system access.

Using this feature, the Administrator can:

- Create user accounts
- Assign user roles and permissions
- Update or deactivate user accounts

This feature ensures that only authorized users can access specific system functions.

d. Stock Management

The Stock Management feature is used to record and manage daily inventory movements.

Using this feature, users can:

- Record items added to inventory (Stock In)
- Record items released or removed from inventory (Stock Out)
- Ensure stock quantities are updated accurately

This feature helps maintain correct and current stock levels.

e. Stock History

The Stock History page displays a complete record of all stock movements recorded in the system. This includes both Stock-in and Stock-out transactions across all branches.

This page is primarily used for reviewing, tracking, and exporting records of inventory movement.

Using this feature, users can:

- View past stock-in and stock-out transactions
- Track when and how inventory quantities changed
- Review inventory activity for reference or verification
- Filter options for branch, product, transaction type, and date range
- Export options for downloading transaction data

This feature supports transparency and accountability in inventory tracking.

f. Product Catalog

The Product Catalog feature displays the list of all products available in the system.

Using this feature, users can:

- View product names and basic information
- Browse products by category or other classifications
- Quickly identify available inventory items
- Add new products to the system
- Update existing product details
- Maintain accurate product records

This feature serves as a reference list of products in the system.

g. Product Management

The Product Management feature allows authorized users to manage product categories and brands used throughout the inventory system. This ensures that all products are consistently classified and properly organized.

Using this feature, users can:

- Add, edit, and maintain product categories
- Add, edit, and maintain product brands
- Search and review existing categories and brands

Product Management serves as a reference setup for inventory operations. Accurate and well-maintained categories and brands help ensure consistency when recording products, managing stock, and generating reports.

h. Supplier Management

The Supplier Management feature is used to maintain information about suppliers.

Using this feature, users can:

- Add and update supplier details
- View supplier records
- Associate suppliers with inventory transactions

This feature helps track where inventory items are sourced.

i. Branch Management

The Branch Management feature allows users to manage branch or location information.

Using this feature, users can:

- Add and update branch details
- Assign inventory to specific branches
- Track inventory across multiple locations

This feature supports inventory organization across different branches.

4. Step-by-Step Procedures
